

Troublesome School Problem Settled

Natrona County high school, in Casper, Wyo., is the last place on earth where "clothes make the boy or girl."

All the pupils and their teachers wear uniforms prescribed by the school board.

The death knell to inequality in dress among pupils was sounded the day the 42 boy students voted to form a cadet corps on the example set by Cheyenne.

Principal H. T. Emmett had the vision to see his opportunity.

"I knew that my girls went home and told their parents that Goldie Gotrocks and the Mary Moneybank of the school had appeared with new dresses and hats that cost far more than the average high school girl could afford," he said. "And mothers told me how daughters cried sometimes because they couldn't keep the pace. Some mothers admitted, they, in turn, had their cry about it."

The school board saw the point, and ordered that all pupils wear uniforms, to all sessions of school and to all school entertainments.

Emmett wears an olive drab suit, the coat of which was natty belted and pleated Norfolk—a suit such as taxi drivers affect.

"This is the uniform of the man teachers," he explained. "Last year we wore the same cadet uniform as the boys, but we found we needed more distinguished garb."

"The women teachers wear the same colored uniforms as the girls, except they can wear blue silk waists with sailor collars if they choose."

"In the early fall and spring the girls are allowed to vary their uniform dress by wearing white middie blouses."

The latest fad was made by the wife of Senator McMillan, said Emmett, and one would hardly have suspected he was speaking about the most powerful politician in the town.

"She told me her daughter wouldn't abide by the rule. I told her her daughter would have to get along without high the school. I told the daughter I'd give her two weeks to get a uniform or leave school."

"The daughter is still in high school and we are proud of her."

"The boys bought $15 uniforms this year. Every boy was helped to the extent of $6 by the state if he cared to except the help. The state demanded all boys receiving state aid to refrain from the use of tobacco."

"A girl's uniform costs $5.70 ready made, but one girl made her own at a cost of $2.90."

Curious Old Watch.

An old French watch, square in shape, which is so arranged that every step of the owner helps to keep the spring tightened, is the property of a man living in San Diego, Cal. This watch is described in the World's Advance, as the only watch in the world that winds itself. It keeps perfectly accurate time, and has worn out several good cases in its day. A key is provided for the watch, to be used when the owner is ill or unable to walk about.

Cleans Leather.

A reader of the Christian Science Monitor writes: "I took my handbag to a number of leather stores where they all told me it could not be cleaned, but I learned from a friend that a tablespoonful of oxalic acid dissolved in a quart of cold water cleans cowhide, pigskin and sole leather very satisfactorily."

Tied by Prejudices.

The confirmed prejudices of a thoughtful life are as hard to change as the confirmed habits of an indolent life; and as some must trifle away years, because they trifled away youth, others must labor on in a maze of error, because they have wandered there too long to find their way out.—Boilingbrooke.

DRINK SIX GLASSES OF WATER DAILY

An Interesting Statement by One of the Big Men in the Drug Business

A. E. KIESLING of Houston, Texas, says: "If you have a muddy complexion and dull eyes, you are constipated. Six glasses of water daily and one or two Rexall Orderlies at night will correct this condition and make you fit as a fiddle. Rexall Orderlies, in my opinion, are the best laxative to be had, and can be taken by men, women or children."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative. Trial size, 10 cents.

Get a Separator.

A cream separator is one of the most useful pieces of machinery the farmer can have. It is common knowledge among those who have had experience with a separator that when milk is skimmed with a separator one can save 20 per cent more cream as compared with the old method of allowing the cream to rise in crocks. Thus if a man milks ten cows the saving in cream effected in a year will pay the cost of the separator, which with proper care will last a great many years.

There are those who claim that one can secure as much as 25 per cent more cream with a separator than by the crock method, and in many instances that is undoubtedly true. In these days of high priced land, feed and labor, we cannot afford to leave a fourth or fifth of the cream in the milk, no matter how well that skim milk may be utilized on the farm. Butter fat at 25 or 30 cents a pound is too expensive a feed for calves or pigs. Butter fat has no more nutritive value than the fat in oil meal or in any other feeding stuff, in which form it can be obtained for a great deal less than 25 cents a pound.

Aside from these things there are many reasons why every farmer should be provided with a cream separator. It makes less work for the women folks in the way of washing, carrying milk up and down cellar stairs, or in other ways of caring for it, and it is certainly worth while to lighten the burdens of the farm woman.

If you are not decided as to what kind of separator to buy, write the manufacturers and dealers in the various makes and let each tell you the merits of his machine. By studying catalogues you will be able to decide upon the machine that will suit your purposes best.—Farmer and Stockman.

Japanese Breakfast.

The usual Japanese breakfast consists of rice, miso soup, pickles and occasionally fish. Tea is always served with meals, and is drunk clear, without sugar or cream. Miso soup consists of strips of radishes, seaweed, eggplant, or other vegetables cooked with bean curd and water. The cooking is not continued for a long period, and so few vegetables are used that the soup partakes only slightly of the flavor of the ingredients.

Friendly Contest.

R. P. Lane recently received a copy of a paper from his old home at Montgomery, Ill., containing the evidence of a friendly contest between two friends of his, one of German descent and the other English. The following verses explain themselves.

WHERE THE SHAMROCKS USED TO GROW
The Kaiser's cows will graze
Where the shamrocks used to grow
How long they'll pasture there
There's no one seems to know
But H. Wilhelm keeps on coming
And so far he's not so slow
There'll be no grass for Pat's jack-ass
Where the shamrocks used to grow.

Oh, Johnnie Bull! Oh, Johnnie Bull!
What are you going to do?
You said that you could lick the Dutch
And now it's up to you.

You had better get a hustle on,
For there's one thing you should know,
They're raising plenty for sauerkraut,
Where the shamrocks used to grow.

THE "COME-BACK."
When Johnnie Bull gets started,
His get-off may be slow,
But watch him when he hits it high.
He'll make the Dutchman go.

All the Irish are behind him
For they love their Shamrock isle;
They'll be gunning up that Rhinestream
And they'll do it up in style.

The sauerkraut may blossom
Where the Irish shamrocks grow,
And the Kaiser's cows may graze there
But I'll tell you why that's so.

When the Irish get to Berlin
They may take to sauerkraut
And bring it back to Dublin
And in back yards plant is out.

And the good old boys who wear the green
May like the Kaiser's cows so
That they'll bring them back to Ireland
Where the shamrock used to go.

Absurd Medical Beliefs.

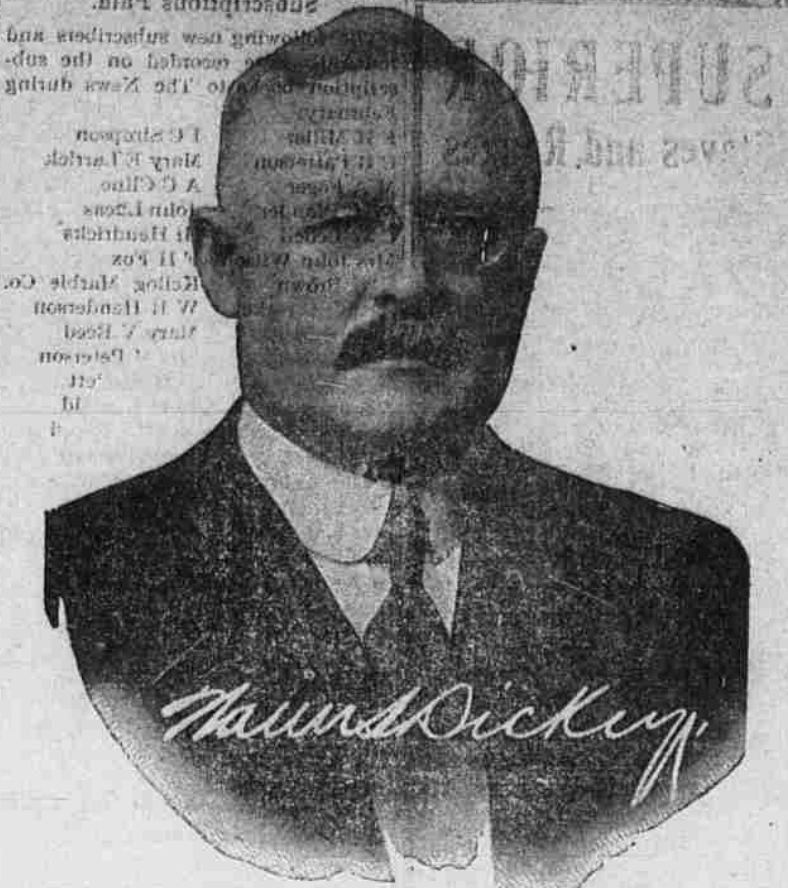

Even in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries there was a belief that dead bodies had medicinal virtues and mummies were obtained and ground to powder for making brews and broths and terrible decoctions. It was said that the mummies for this industry were obtained in Egypt.

Granada.

Granada, the last of the Spanish provinces on which the Moors retained a hold, was freed from that alien race by the forces of Ferdinand and Isabella the same year America was discovered, 1492.

Dangers of Draft.

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuralgia Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 25c at your Druggist.

Preparedness

A Most Vital Question. Are YOU Prepared?

If not it is all the more reason you should invest your money in the best farm machinery money will buy.

In the Independent Disc Harrow you will find some of the best features ever seen on a disc. The only disc on the market with double strength in side disc; and hard maple boxings that are guaranteed for five years.

The Independent and Rock Island Plows are a sure pleaser, being so constructed that they are easy to operate, light draft, long sloping moldboard, and soft center crucible share.

P. S. By the time this reaches you we will have been moved in to our new quarters, the Chapman building, recently vacated by the pool hall.

Daily Thought.

Life, with all its fields of joy and woe, is just our chance of the prize of learning love—how love might be, hath been indeed, and is.—Browning.

Must Go on Forever.

Time is like a river made up of the events which happen, and a violent stream; for as soon as a thing has been seen, it is carried away, and another comes in its place, and this will be carried away, too.—Marcus Aurelius.
